Coming from NYC, head away from the river to the southern most exit of the parking lot. Look for the sign that says “Arden Point”; the path heads into the woods. Stay straight on the path all the way to Garrison Institute. After about 10 minutes the path gets narrower, rockier, and somewhat uphill; you will need walking shoes.

Eventually, you will see a sign for Garrison Institute and come to a big field. The Institute is on your left. Head up the steps to the front entrance.
